HAPPY MOTHER'S DAY, MOMS!

Kumon is the world's largest and most successful supplemental education program, but we cannot take all the credit for our success. There are many unsung heroines, which we should acknowledge. These are the Kumon mothers. Mother's Day, is the day we honor and thank our mothers for all the love and support they have given us. Mothers are very loving, giving and patient people. They are the first teachers children have, and their lessons are some of the most important that can ever be learned. Many students in Kumon could not continue their studies without the support provided by their mothers. Without the unyielding commitment of mothers keeping their children involved, neither Kumon nor our students would be as successful as they are.

The qualities of maternal love are the very same features needed to sustain a child's motivation in Kumon. Patience and perseverance are essential if the child is to develop his or her fullest potential. Concern for the child's best interests is characteristic of both motherhood and Kumon. When young children want to give up, it is often Mom whose affection or sympathetic words get the youngster through a tough day. It is also often Mom who can most appreciate the benefits of the method. When her child starts to show subtle signs of improvement, her acknowledgment of these accomplishments provides just the right motivation needed.

The Kumon Method is designed as a home education system. Students attend class twice a week, but the majority of work is completed at home. Parents are asked to supervise this study and to provide encouragement and praise. Whether it is through home grading the daily assignments, driving the child to the Center or just being there when a hug and supportive words are needed, mothers play an extremely important role in the success of all children in the program. Thousands of mothers all over the world are due a tremendous amount of credit for their devotion to their children's development. Kumon is truly grateful to all of these wonderful mothers! Thank you all for your commitment and hard work. On your special day, please remember the importance of your gift of Kumon to your child and praising your child's accomplishments.

HAVE A GREAT MOTHER'S DAY!
